INVESTMENT OVERVIEW

The aim of the IFSL Titan Mazarin Balanced Fund (the 'Fund') is to provide capital growth, that is, to increase the value of your investment, over a minimum of 5 years. The Fund aims to have an average yearly volatility (a measure of the size of short-term changes in the value of an investment), below 12% per year, over any 5-year period. This may limit the potential for capital growth.

There is no guarantee that the Fund will meet its investment objective or volatility target, and investors may not get back the amount originally invested.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Global markets began the year on a broadly constructive note, with equity markets pushing higher and emerging market economies outperforming on the back of currency support, robust earnings and improving capital flows. UK gilt yields eased modestly as inflation data surprised to the downside, and gold and silver surged to record levels driven by safe-haven demand and central bank buying. The macro backdrop was one of modest but positive global growth, with central banks signalling a data-dependent approach to rate cuts. February brought elevated volatility and a pronounced rotation away from highly valued growth stocks towards more cash-generative, reasonably priced companies. Renewed trade policy uncertainty weighed on export-oriented economies and supply-chain-sensitive sectors, while domestically focused businesses proved relatively more resilient. Fixed income markets experienced modest swings as investors reassessed the timing of policy easing, though corporate fundamentals remained generally sound. By month-end, investors were gravitating towards diversified, quality-biased portfolios with a focus on income and capital resilience. March delivered the quarter's defining shock. Escalating conflict between the US and Iran disrupted energy infrastructure and key shipping routes, sending oil prices well above USD 100 per barrel and triggering a broad sell-off across risk assets. Equity markets fell sharply, with energy the sole sector to advance. Government bond yields rose materially as inflation expectations were revised higher and rate cut bets were unwound, with the UK ten-year gilt yield climbing to levels not seen since 2008. Gold reversed its earlier gains as dollar strength and higher rate expectations weighed. Corporate fundamentals remained intact, but the range of outcomes for growth, inflation and policy narrowed considerably, leaving markets cautious and reactive heading into Q2.
