Commentary

The third quarter saw markets continue to navigate persistent inflation, shifting central bank expectations and ongoing geopolitical uncertainty. Economic growth remained resilient, particularly in the US, while enthusiasm around artificial intelligence and corporate earnings supported equity markets. Returns broadened across regions, with the US, Asia and Emerging Markets performing well, although elevated valuations and higher bond yields contributed to periods of volatility. Fixed income markets remained more mixed as investors reassessed the path for interest rates.

The Investment Association (IA) is the trade body that represents the UK investment management industry. It publishes data on UK funds and investment trends and oversees fund classifications, including the widely used IA sector classifications for UK funds. The IA Mixed Investment sectors are a way they group multi-asset funds so investors can compare similar funds based mainly on how much equity a fund is allowed to hold.

*The costs and charges of manufacturing the fund will impact the overall return received by investors. Other costs deducted from fund returns are transaction costs which include trading costs, broker commissions and spreads. More information is available on request.
Underlying Holdings Charge: Weighted average of the OCF (Ongoing Charge Figure) of all holdings. Where OCF is unavailable TER (Total Expense Ratio) is used. The actual charge may vary depending upon Platform and availability of and access to share classes.
 Historic yield figures will only be provided for funds with at least 12 months of performance history. Where quoted, the yield is the aggregate and weighted position of each underlying fund within the portfolio and is based on the yield published by the manager of each respective fund.
